

Certificates and Membership – Tractebel Engineering (Czech Republic)

ISO 9001: 1994

In 1996, the Quality Management System was certified in accordance with the requirements of EN ISO 9001: 1994. The certificate was granted by the BSI (British Standards Institution) of London and amended by the same in 1999 for the following scope of certified activities:

“The provision of multidisciplinary design and engineering services for process plant installations, including building services, from preliminary design and feasibility to tender recommendation and project management. Services include environmental impact assessments, basic design, detailed engineering, procurement, construction management and turn-key contracting in accordance with requirements of its clients.”

ISO 9001: 2008

Since that time the Quality Management System has been regularly recertified, last certification according EN ISO 9001: 2008 was awarded in 2012.

ISO 14001:2004

TUV NORD granted the Quality Management System of Tractebel Engineering, a.s. the certificate ISO 14001:2004.

BS OHSAS 18001:2007

Tractebel Engineering a.s. is also certified BS OHSAS 18001:2007 by TUV NORD for the provision of multidisciplinary design and engineering services in the area of technological, industrial and power constructions including construction management. The certification is regularly updated.

Security Clearance Certificate

In 2001, our company obtained the Security Clearance Certificate issued by the National Security Authority of the Czech Republic. This certificate gives the company the right to deal with secret information up to and including the level “confidential”.

Tractebel Engineering (CZECH REPUBLIC) is a member of:

- Association of Chemical Industry in the Czech Republic
- Association of Energy Managers
- Czech Chamber of Commerce
- Chamber for Commercial Relations with the Confederation of Independent States